OPERATIONS

Prior to 1964, units were squadrons with their various support functions called elements. With the Group designation, the supporting elements became squadrons.

In addition to the 168th Air Transport Group, these squadrons were also established on 16 February 1964:

*168th Support Squadron — Major Clarence Withers — responsible for Group administrative and personnel, air police, and dining activities.

*168th Materiel Squadron — Captain Neil B. Bentz — was the result of a merger of the supply and maintenance elements.

*140th Aeromedical Evacuation Flight — consisted of flight nurses and aeromedical technicians.
