

145 LOGISTICS READINESS SQUADRON

MISSION

The 145 Logistics Readiness Squadron is an important part of the 145 Airlift Wing. Readiness starts long before we begin any mission. It's the job of Logistics Readiness Officers to prepare Airmen for anything by ensuring that every person and piece of equipment is ready to go. From distribution and materiel management to contingency and distribution, these experts have a wide range of operations under their watch, ensuring that everything gets where it needs to go, exactly when it needs to get there.
