EMBLEM

Azure, on a disc in base, a bald eagle's head caboshed, proper, in front of a silver-white missile palewise extending to chief. White billowy clouds fill the base and extend into fess. Four 4-point stars appear in dexter chief. On a yellow scroll, edged and inscribed black, the unit designation.

SIGNIFICANCE: The eagle symbolizes the United States and the constant vigil it stands in guarding freedom. The missile represents our mission of supporting the ICBM FOT&E program. The four stars indicate the significance of the celestial bodies in furnishing guidance data initially utilized by ballistic missiles for directional control.
