OPERATIONS

On 16 February 1953, considerable reorganization was effected within the organizational structure of Oxnard Air Force Base, California. The 90th Air Base Squadron was inactivated and the personnel was absorbed by the 533rd Air Defense Group, which was activated at Oxnard Air Force Base on that same date. Activated at the same time was the 533rd Air Base Squadron.

These units were further assigned to the 533rd Air Defense Group.
