EMBLEM

On a disc Vert, a globe Azure gridlined Sable, winged Argent (Silver Gray) detailed of the third supporting a top hat of the like garnished White, cocked to dexter and emitting two lightning flashes Or, one arching to base and the second arching to chief and terminating between the wings, all within a narrow border Black. Attached above the disc, a White scroll edged with a narrow Black border and inscribed "624th AIR CONTROL FLIGHT" in Black letters. Attached below the disc, a White scroll edged with a narrow Black border and inscribed "AIR DEFENSE LIAISON" in Black letters. SIGNIFICANCE: Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. Yellow refers to the sun and the excellence required of Air Force personnel. The globe represents air force dominance through global reach and global power. The silver wings signify strength through air power and the integrity of Air Force members. The yellow lightning bolts represent communications between pertinent global agencies to enhance performance of aircraft operations. The top hat is representative of the unit's call sign and has played an important role through years in the Flight's role as liaison for air operations between the United States and foreign nations.
