EMBLEM

Celeste, border Azure, in dexter chief five mullets arranged two, one and two Gules, fimbriated Argent, emitting from the group of mullets three rays descending bendwise of the third, fimbriated of the fourth, terminating at a globe in base of the second, rays debruised by a bend sinister Blue, thereon two bendlets Or, all within a diminished bordure Or. Attached below the shield, a White scroll edged with a narrow Yellow border and inscribed "751ST ELECTRONIC SYSTEMS GROUP" in Blue letters. SIGNIFICANCE: Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. Yellow refers to the sun and the excellence required of Air Force personnel. The cluster of five stars against a sky represents valor and the theater in which the Group supports the mission. The beams radiating from the joint stars down to the earth's surface represent the advanced detection technology developed by the Group. The two large diagonal bands bonded together represent how the unit bonds together to perform the mission, and the three smaller bands represent the many Air Force organizations teaming to support the unit's mission.
