

951 ELECTRONIC SYSTEMS GROUP

MISSION

The 951 Electronic Systems Group mission is to be the user's choice for integrated mission planning capability on any device -- anytime, anywhere.

The Mission Planning program has three systems. The legacy systems fielded today are the UNIX based Mission Planning System and the PC based Portable Flight Planning System. The future PC-based planner, Joint Mission Planning System with major integration expectations, will serve the warfighter into the next decade.
