

2562 AIR RESERVE CENTER

MISSION

Our mission was to train and administer assigned or attached Air Reserve units and individuals, and to provide training for individual Reservists which would qualify them for mobilization.

Our functions were: a) to provide training for Reservists in mobilization positions, and recommend changes in training methods and other phases of training pertinent to the Reserve program; b) to carry out Air Force programs and establish liaison with elements of the Armed Forces and civic groups; c) maintain responsibility for the morale and training of permanent party personnel; d) handle all phases of supply relevant to the Center and attached units; and e) carry out such responsibilities as were designated by the proper authority.

The organization of this Center remained the same as for the previous reporting period. One minor administrative change was effective when eleven officers were attached to this Center for inactive duty training of Censorship Personnel.

Although there were no changes in organization, it is important to note that the 2562d Air Reserve Center was scheduled to be inactivated effective 1 July 1961, and certain organizational functions were realigned to the revised management of the Air Force Reserve Recovery Group concept.
