EMBLEM

On a blue disc within a white border an atomic symbol formed by the interlaced contrails of a white flight symbol, a yellow drone and a red missile all converging at lower right center points up and all within a narrow blue border. Attached below the disc a yellow scroll edged blue.

SIGNIFICANCE: Ultramarine blue and yellow are the Air Force colors. Red, white and blue are the National flag colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theatre of Air Force operations; yellow to the sun, and excellence of personnel in assigned tasks; red for the valor of the men who employ the weapons in combat; and white for the purity of maintaining the Nation's honor. The three contrails allude to the atom and symbolize the scientific nature and unknown quality of flight testing
