OPERATIONS

From December 1951 through mid March 1952, the 7412th Support Squadron provided site security, logistics support, and communications operations.

Caretaker unit was the 7412th Support Squadron that had served at Toul during initial construction in late 1951. The squadron consisted of seventy-five officers and airmen. Several airmen from the 10th Wing were assigned to the 7412th because of their experience with specific functions at Toul: procurement, finance, and installations.
